Dear Mr. Nicklaus:

Attached is the report you requested on November 10, 2000, discussing the company dress policy. I believe you will find the results of this study useful in evaluating the effectiveness of "business casual" dress.

I conducted a survey of employees and policyholders to learn of their feelings toward our current dress policy. Results of this research, discussed more fully in this report, indicate that "business casual" dress remains suitable for a professional environment.

I would be pleased to discuss this report and its conclusions with you at your request. I thank you for your confidence in allowing me to prepare this report.

Sincerely,

Tiger Woods
